Statement of Purpose

Given the importance of globalization in the management and development of companies, an education that does not fully address the international and multicultural realities of the modern business world is incomplete. I have therefore decided to pursue my degree overseas, as the expertise and facilities offered by international institution will help me to advocate the diversity and multiculturalism in the business world today. I look forward to meeting and interacting with people from diverse backgrounds. The ability to listen and learn from others is crucial for professionals in all industries. Your university, with its mix of people from different backgrounds, is a true microcosm of the international business world and thus the ideal place in which to pursue a business-based education.

I am XXXX resident of Bhutkhel-15, Kirtipur, Kathmandu, Nepal. And I would like to apply for Bachelor of Commerce(Accounting) in XXXX Sydney, Australia.

Regarding my academic background, I have completed my S.L.C( School Leaving Certificate – 10 years of education) in 2012 from XXXX, Kirtipur, Kathmandu securing 86.13% and I too have completed my 10+2(HigherSecondary Education) in 2014 from XXXX School securing 66.90%. including penicillin, IVF, ultrasound , Wi-Fi, the Bionic Ear, Cervical cancer vaccine and Black Box Flight Recorders- to make their lives, and the lives of others, better. These are some factors encouraged continuing my further education in Australia.

The excellence in Education , the multi-cultural background of students, value for money, English speaking country and on top of that governmental and institution support for international students are some good aspects that has made Australia a very attractive destination for students all over the globe. Many others countries eager to improve their own educational system turn to Australia for advice. Also Australia enjoys modern transport options and communication possibilities. Rate of crime are typically low and many international students can live, learn and grow. Studying should not get only focus on course syllabus. Studying means learning new ideas, new cultures, the way how to get involved internationally so that I could build my confidence to grab the future goal. These are some factors which encouraged me to study in Australia.

This program provides the theory and practice needed for business knowledge which can be beneficial to build my career as well as will improve my knowledge.

Nepal is very beautiful country by nature and it is developing country. Compared to neighboring India and China, Nepal was a late entrant to the Business revolution that swept the region in the 1990s. With limited infrastructure, an unstable political system and no skilled labor force, the country was forced to stand by and watch while others tried to make sense of the changes the accounting sector completely. Now, two decades later, Nepal is no longer on the sidelines. The country is enthusiastically embracing Business with the young people leading the charge to make the country in accounting sector field and everything is successfully working in form. Development in accounting sector is seen rapidly. But still there is shortage of skill to perform well in accounting sector. So I can easily implement my skills and knowledge which I will be taking from Australia in my home country. I am sure that I will have high employment opportunities in Nepal after being back from Australia. I hope that you will provide me that opportunity to study in Australia.

As the above shows, I am highly motivated and ambitious in pursuing my bachelor degree in Australia. By studying in bachelor program, I hope to extend my vision and gain proficiency in accounting field. After completion of bachelor program, I plan to apply for the Post Study Work (PSW) so that I can have international work experience. Then I will return to my country and work for one of the leading multinational accounting/finance firms as an accounting professional capable of dealing with a broad range of people, companies, and financial situations. Your program in Accounting and Management will enable me to achieve the goals I have set for myself. I expect to have a long career in this field and benefit a wide range of companies.

Yours sincerely

XXXX
